

CLARK RENOVATIONS

When the Welch family from North Strabane Township decided they needed more space in their kitchen, they turned to Clark Renovations once again to meet their needs. Clark had increased their living space several years earlier by converting their attached garage into a family room. This time around, the homeowners were looking to add a sunroom/dining area and reconfigure the kitchen to maximize the use of the new space.

“This is our specialty,” says Steve Clark, President of Clark Renovations. “We are very good at combining room additions with existing space to provide a seamless solution. Our goal is to make it nearly impossible to identify where the new space was added.”

Ron Clark, Vice President, worked with the Welches to capture their ideas and transform them into an optimized layout, with both visual appeal, and full functionality. “We were able to take an existing 8 by 15-foot porch and close it in, while maintaining the existing roof,” states Ron. Pella windows and a French door were used along with siding to match the existing structure. The paver patio was removed and reconstructed around the new living space.

Schrock’s of Walnut Creek cabinetry was combined with DuPont Corian countertops and Porcelain Impressions flooring to create an inviting space that will serve the homeowners for years to come. A dark walnut stain and raised-panel square doors were selected for the fine cabinetry, while lighter flooring and Granola countertops provide contrast. A Corian bowl and one-half seamless sink was used to ease cleanup and the Kohler Evoke faucet in vibrant stainless steel provides a little “bling”.

A six-drawer “pull-out pantry” rests next to the refrigerator adjacent to deep base drawers useful for storing cookware. A tray rack and double waste/recycle drawer also help keep things in this kitchen organized. A large center island with three curved sides provides ample space for food preparation and casual dining. A custom-designed display/storage unit rests on the wall opposite the refrigerator and provides a focal point.

Clark Renovations is based in the South Hills of Pittsburgh and offers new customers design/build services for windows, doors, kitchens and baths. A showroom is located at 3180 Industrial Blvd. in Bethel Park and offers several display areas designed to inspire you. As a Kohler-registered showroom, it offers a large selection of fixtures and accessories.

“One of the advantages of doing business with Clark Renovations is that you can make all of the selections necessary for your entire project right in our showroom. We don’t send our customers all over town tracking down individual components,” claims Steve.

He continues, “Another distinct advantage we offer is that we have our own, full-time craftsmen, who are responsible for every aspect of the job. We don’t rely on subcontracted help to manage our projects. While we do use subcontractors for items like plumbing and electrical, our size provides us with a lot of clout. Our trades partners are where we need them, when we need them!” This keeps Clark’s jobs on time and on budget. Call 412.833.7222 or check out the company online at www.clarkremodeling.com.
